

WILLOW PRAIRIE HORSE CAMP

Between Medford and Klamath Falls

Directions

This camp is on the Rogue River National Forest near Medford Oregon. Take Hwy 140 east from Hwy 62 approximately 28 miles to the Butte Falls/Willow Lake Road (FS #37). Go up this road for about 1 mile and watch for the Horse Camp sign. Turn left and go about 1 mile and turn left at the intersection, cross the cattle guard and you are there. All paved except for the last mile.

Facilities

The campground has ten back-in campsites with four corrals at each site. Each site also has a picnic table and fire pit. There is one vault toilet, potable water from a hand-pumped well and three water troughs for horses. Day-use parking is available across from the horse camp. This is a heavily used area from June to September. Reservations are recommended. A camp host is onsite from Memorial Day through Labor Day.

Fees

The overnight camping fee is $10.00 per site for the first vehicle and $5.00 for each additional vehicle (most sites will only hold one truck/trailer, and one single vehicle). Reservations can be made 240 days before your arrival through ReserveUSA at 877-444-6777.

Description

Nestled in tall timber just southwest of Mt. McLoughlin is a beautiful meadow called Willow Prairie. Adjacent to the camp is wetlands with a beaver swamp and several large ponds where wildlife abounds. Keep your eyes open for Sandhill Cranes, Canada geese, ducks, elk, and deer. Equestrians will find a beautiful setting, clean and cared for facilities and 17+ miles of maintained horse trails. Most of the trails are easy to moderate and are well marked. Ask the camp host for a trail map.
